What's this project about?

Pride of Place: People want to feel connected to and proud of their community, and want to put their hand prints ON the community.

Community Engagement: This project is imagined to be a catalyst for healing in our community. With the polarization from the past three years, this allows art to become a healing moment for our residents and community.

Art/Building Beautification: Whether a building owner wants to share art, or needs something 'covered up' we want to showcase our community artists. Also, pieces may be really big for an entire wall, or possibly smaller to go around a window, doorway, a smaller portion of a wall, or other unique building feature.

Tourism: Communities market their mural collections and bring tourist to their community... We can too!

We have received $44,000 in grants to support this project. Donations are being accepted now.
